TO EVERY READER OF THIS PAPER!

We want to increase our circulation very largely during the next six months—to double it, if pos-nible. To accomplish this we need the co-operation of our present subscribers and readers. If each one of our present readers would secure for us one new subscriber, our circulation would be doubled, of course. But we know that it will take an extraordinary inducement to bring out the united efforts of every one of our present subscribers—we shall have to make a high bid. Well, we are ambitious and anxious to double our circulation, and, by special arrangement with one of the leading publishing houses we are enabled to make you

This is the title of a handsome engraving, SIZE 20x26 inches, finished in the highest style of the engaving art, on a beautiful tinted etching paper; a faithful copy and reprint of Mr. A. Rudaux' picture, exhibited in 1869. It represents a handsome young Tourist who is engaged in talking to a beautiful country maiden, while unconscious that the fish have taken his bait away. This is no well-executed wood-cut but an actual etching by one of the best Housesin N. Y. City, the original plate of which cost many thousands of dollars. This handsome picture which retails for $1.00, we now offer to our readers free of charge. Cut this out, enclose it immediately (with six cents for mailing) to A. M. Julia and Her mee. By David Chris-are inventors and rany. In "Julia and Her Romes" h perticularly charming. The pender is held to the last in spell which makes him regret the med of the story. 68. The Lndy of I ons. By Sir E Bulwar Lyuca. This is the lady as oen in the colobrated play of the same name. It ranks as the pretilest picture of devotion and sincerest expression of the "tender passion" over placed on the "tender passion" over

61. The Cricket on the Hearth. By Charles Dickens. One of the awes set and tenderest things ever written by Dickens. All leve it for its beauty and pathes, and it will be preserved and read long after same of his most imaginative works have been forgotten. 63 Stabbed in the Dark. By E. Lynn Lyttes. A strong, stirring story of the old Neapelitan cays, by an author who invents ingenious plots and handles invicate situations like a master. Part I. 63. Part II. 64. Calderon the Courtier. By Sir E. Bul-wer Lytton. One of the best of the great author's histories, stories. Full of graphic situations, quick action, and rare information.

65. She; or Adventures in the Caves of Kor. By

R. Rider Haggard. This unique and popular story is a new departure in the field of fiction. Its preduction has carried the author into fame as a writer and artist. The vigor and variety of the book make it especially charming;
its narrative imparts a pleasant thrill as it glides through wenderful scores and startling events. Fart I. 66. Part II.
68. Part III. 68. Part IV. of abovs. Bulldeg and Butterfly. By David Christie Murray. A spicily told story of human character, yet not a bit everdrawn. Bulldegs and Butterflies are all around us.

The Coming Race, or New Utopia. By hir h. Bulwer Lytton. A thrilling history of life among an ideal people found in the centre of the earth, where the heartles are Areadism, the form perfect, the thought pure and metive free. A charming book; light, cheerful. Part L. Tl. Part II of above.

The rank has above.

The Duty Unto Denth, or Life and Work of Rev. George C. Haddock, Apostle of Probibition in the Earthwest. By his brother, John A. Haddock. The murder of this great pulpit and platform crator and elequent temperature champion sents thrill of berror through the Forthwest and entire country. The work is an ably written review of the man and his career, and contains a graphic account of his assessination. Part I. 13. Part II of above.

74. The Trial of Pickwick. By Charles Pickens. This is the first time the entire story or the gallant Pickwick's adventures with the impressionable Mrs. Bardell has appeared in connected form. It abounds in Indicrous situations and mirch-provoking incidents. The Allan Quartermain; the latest and best away from the pen of the popular H. Rider Baggard. In this story of African adventure, the author surpasses the giving descriptive vicer, startling situation and thrilling setting that made "She" such a revealation in faction. No mere exciting romance has ever come to the surface in Baglish literature and it must share the popularity of all his other works. Part L. 76. Part III. Ti. Part III. Ta. Pars IV of above.

73. The Kuightsbirldge Mystery. By Charles Reads. One of Kose ingeniously devised and hrillingly told stories which immortalized Reads. The plot is a work of art. Concesiment is the artist's game, till after winding through a facest of mysteries, the fearful cloud bursts on the reader like an Apine avaisance or occasionate.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED ANCIENT EDITION. A so-called "Webster's Unabridged

A so-called "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" is being offered to the public at a very low price. The body of the book, from A to Z, is a cheap reprint, page for page, of the edition of 1847, which was in its day, a valuable book, but in the progress of language for over FORTY YEARS, has been completely superseded. It is now reproduced, broken type, errors and all by photo-lithograph process, is printed all, by photo-lithograph process, is printed on cheap paper and filmsily bound. A brief comparison, page by page, between the reprint and the latest and enlarged edition, will show the great superiority of the latter. These reprints are as out of date as a last year's almanac. No hon-orable dealer will allow the buyer of such to suppose that he is getting the Webster which to-day is accepted as the Standard and THE BEST,—every copy of which bears our imprint as given below. If persons who have been induced to purchase the "Ancient Edition" by any misrepresentations will advise us of the facts, we will undertake to see that the
